WE LOVE GRAMMAR!

Last week we decided to interview our teachers Teresa and Katie to know them a little more. We asked them some questions and they had the kindness to answer us.

Teresa has been a teacher for 25 years. She learned Spanish but hasn't spoke this language for a long time. If she could, she would like to learn French for its sounds structure Italian because she is oh Italian origin but she would really like to learn Arabic because it is a language completely different from hers. She visited many countries: France, Germany, China, Thailand, Korea, Australia, New-Zeland, Switzerland ... For her next trip, she would like to go to Tanzania. She likes dogs, reading, cooking, bicycles and music. She likes chocolate and her favorite food is Mexican food. To finish, she told us that if she could be re-born she would like to study "medicine".

QUESTIONS FOR KATIE

We asked the same questions to Katie and sometimes the answers were almost identical, here is the interview of Katie.

Interviewed by: Clementine Equi, Claudia Gomez Pacheco

Katie has been teacher for 7 years, she taught English in Spain for 2 years, so she speaks Spanish. She studied French at school but doesn't speak any more. Like Teresa, Katie would like to learn Arabic, she went to 6 countries of which Spain and Mexico, she likes very much. She would like to travel in South America and Asia because she doesn't know these continents. She likes cooking, snowboarding, travelling and going to concerts. She likes all kind of food but her preferred Italian food. And for our last question, she answered that she wouldn't change anything in her life.

We hope these interviews will help you to know your teachers better.

Friday activity review

POW-WOW FRIDAY ACTIVITY

We went to the coliseum on March 19th for the event Pow-Wow, the pow-wow is a gathering of north America's native people. A modern pow-wow is a specific type of event where both native Americans and non-native American people meet to dance, sing, socialize, and honor American Indian culture. There is generally a dancing competition, often with significant prize money awarded, pow-wos vary in length from one day session of 5 to 6 hours to three days.

Friday Activity Review—Coors Brewery Tour

For our last Friday activity was an interesting visit to the famous and popular Coors brewery in Golden, Colorado. Golden is a pleasant small town close to Denver that offers restaurants, bars and a beautiful landscape and historic architecture. The path is simple and easy and if you doesn't have car, you can get a 16L bus to go to the coors location and average 40 minutes. The brewery could be a perfect way to fami-

arrived at Golden we were surprised for the beautiful mountains that surround small town. Our first step was got one of the white pleasant Coors bus that brought us until the lobby of the brewery where some securities scanned our I.D. to make sure that everyone will respect the limit of the three bears per person and gave to each of us a phone that work as a intelligent, rational and easy personal guide providing information about the story, ingredients

, explain different process for each bear and what is results on the final flavor. That phone is really useful. The brewery also offers a shopping where the girls could buy souvenirs while the kids how to be a (man) explaining a amazing and cultural story of the bear while the kids pretend have some interest while eat one of the delious snacks and special foods that's also find there.
